Top 3 Video Production Concerns

Doesn't video production end up being expensive?

If it's cheaper, the quality will probably go down...

There's a lot to check and it seems like it would be difficult. Delivery will also take some time.

Video production that overturns industry conventions

Ai Studio Service

produced by

Ai Studio Service is a one-stop AI video production (Studio) service that covers everything from trailers, pilots, and previsualization at the start of a film project to corporate commercials and promotional videos.

Founded in 1970, we visualize ideas at the planning stage based on the film production skills and worldview design cultivated in Kyoto, also known as Japan's Hollywood.

It delivers Hollywood-quality video at speeds and costs never before possible.

- Established in 1970, Kyoto's long-established film production know-how
- Numerous award-winning films at domestic and international film festivals
- Production design led by film directors and producers
- Supports a wide range of genres, including movies, animation, science fiction, action, and live-action
- One-stop service for planning, composition, direction, and sound
